

Guide to Searching ACGME-Accredited and Pre-Accredited Programs

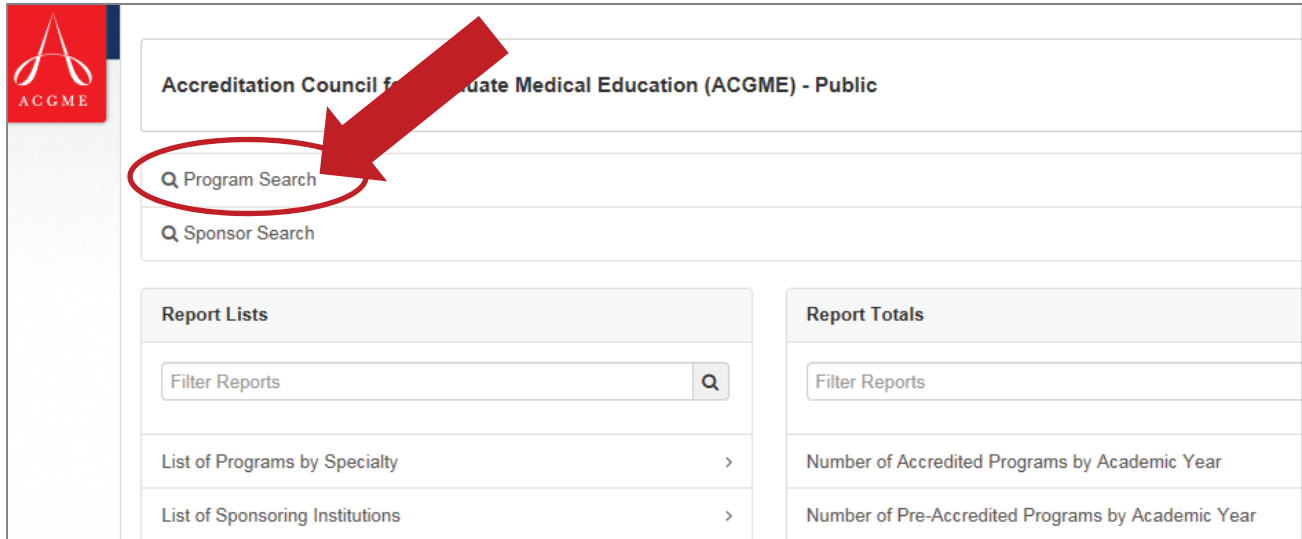

This guide is designed to help navigate the ACGME's Accreditation Data System (ADS) public search and reports to locate ACGME-accredited and pre-accredited programs, as well as basic information about them. The ADS public site ("ADS public") provides current, real-time information, pulled directly from ADS each time a search is run or a report is generated.

To access ADS public, go to www.acgme.org and click on the Search Programs and Institutions button in the top navigation bar of the website.

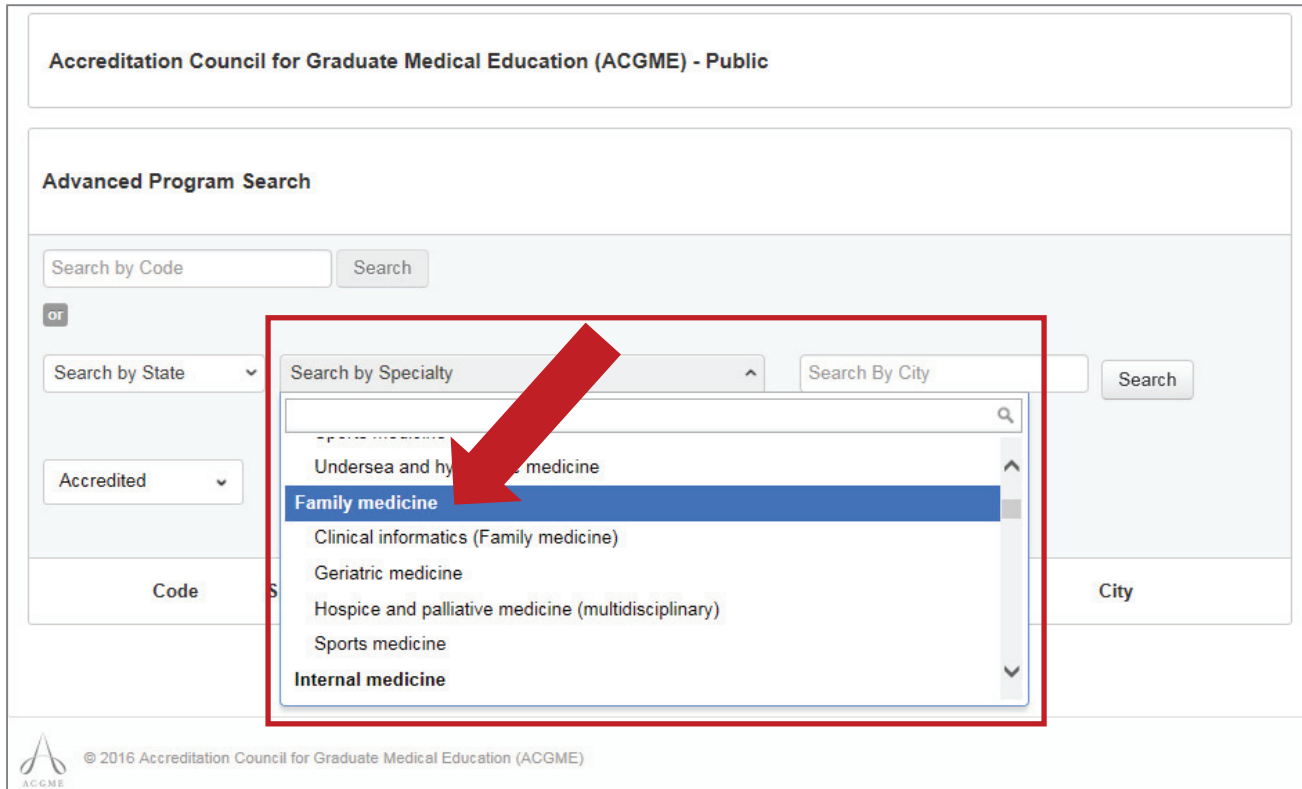

SEARCHING FOR ACGME-ACCREDITED PROGRAMS

Click Program Search.

The screenshot shows the ACGME Public website. The header includes the ACGME logo and the text "Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education (ACGME) - Public". Below the header, there are two search links: "Q Program Search" and "Q Sponsor Search". The "Q Program Search" link is circled in red, and a large red arrow points to it. Below the search links, there are two sections: "Report Lists" and "Report Totals". The "Report Lists" section has a "Filter Reports" input field and a search icon. Below it, there are two links: "List of Programs by Specialty" and "List of Sponsoring Institutions", both with right-pointing arrows. The "Report Totals" section also has a "Filter Reports" input field and a search icon. Below it, there are two links: "Number of Accredited Programs by Academic Year" and "Number of Pre-Accredited Programs by Academic Year".

Select a specialty or subspecialty (fellowship) from the drop-down menu.

The screenshot shows the ACGME Public website's "Advanced Program Search" page. The header includes the ACGME logo and the text "Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education (ACGME) - Public". Below the header, there is a "Search by Code" input field and a "Search" button. Below that, there is an "or" separator. Below the separator, there are three search options: "Search by State" with a dropdown arrow, "Search by Specialty" with a dropdown arrow, and "Search By City" with a dropdown arrow. Below these, there is an "Accredited" dropdown menu. Below the "Accredited" dropdown, there are two input fields: "Code" and "City", each with a "Search" button. The "Search by Specialty" dropdown menu is open, showing a list of specialties. The "Family medicine" option is highlighted in blue. A large red arrow points to the "Family medicine" option. The list of specialties includes: "Undersea and hyperbaric medicine", "Family medicine", "Clinical informatics (Family medicine)", "Geriatric medicine", "Hospice and palliative medicine (multidisciplinary)", "Sports medicine", and "Internal medicine".

Optional: Select a state from the drop-down to further narrow the search.

SEARCH FOR UNACCREDITED COMBINED AND INTEGRATED PROGRAMS

Combined or integrated programs that are not accredited by the ACGME, but they do consist of two or more closely related specialty or subspecialty programs, are searchable. In an unaccredited combined or integrated program, each specialty or subspecialty program is separately accredited by the ACGME through its respective specialty Review Committee.

In order for a combined or integrated program to be listed, the educational plan for the combined/integrated training must be approved by the specialty board for each of the applicable specialties or subspecialties to ensure the physicians completing the combined/integrated training are eligible for board certification in each of the component specialties/subspecialties. The duration of combined training, unlike integrated training, is longer than any one of its component specialty/subspecialty programs standing alone and shorter than all of its component specialty/subspecialty programs together.

To search for combined or integrated programs, select the specialty or subspecialty combination from the specialty drop-down menu. The unaccredited combinations will be listed at the end of the list, beneath the accredited specialties and subspecialties. Next to each unaccredited specialty or subspecialty combination in the list, it will state in parenthesis that the “components are individually accredited.”
